Glades Ahead Of Russians Now

The disclosures by a group of Russian scientists about some fantastic-sounding discoveries left us ashamed of ourselves. We had planned to make some sort of joint announcement with them and they jumped the gun on us again.

They propounded a group of theories that ranged from life on other planets and the moon to the collectivization of energy transmitted by the passage of time. They also corrected Isaac Newton's theory of motion for good measure.

Professor Nikolai Alexeevich Rusanov, an astrophysicist from Leningrad, said the space interval between cause and effect, the split-second between action and reaction, could be harnessed for energy. Going along with that, we have a few things that might just as easy to harness and use practically in the Glades.

Folks here take all the excess speed of traffic in the Belle Glade School and use it to speed electric rail cars of fresh produce to points in Turkey territory. This will save diesel fuel for other uses.

As radishes are packed into celo bags, tiny celophane plugs are punched from the bags. These tiny plugs fall to the floor and just lie there. Our plan is to harness these little rascals in flight and use the force of their impact to move useful purposes. The resultant pressure could be used to stuff cello bags. Into other celophane bags and eliminate the need for packing house workers.

As packing crates are pushed along, metal bolts, tiny casters or rollers carry the crates along. We'd devise a belt to pick up the turning action, convert it to energy and use it to operate street equipment to smooth down the road bed at the South Bay intersection.

Then, we'll take the days saved from this job and use it to figure out what to do with the packing house workers we've put out of a job. And who says we're not ahead of the Russians?

Don't Get Indigestion, Have A Fire

If no one comes to your house to visit, and you're doubting your present popularity, have a fire. Don't get hurt, don't burn important things, and don't add to the insurance company's woes, but have a fire.

It's the only way to get people to turn out in vast, innumerable numbers.

To start a blood bank to save someone's life, you'll get 63 dead. However, you'll get 63 more in fees, fines and taxes. You'll get up to a dozen folks to drop by. Try to get your ducks in a row on any subject about how many want what to be put where, and you'll play to an empty house. You'll burn a few trees, but have a fire, and everybody comes! Bring the kids. Bring the bicycles and let 'em ride all over the fire hoses. Bring your car. Park it in the way. Have a traffic jam and blow your horn.

Hold a meeting on what to do for heart care, stage an election or a side show featuring Aly Kahn, Herbert Hoover and Walter Pidgeon on the panel. There'll still be room for more to be seated. If you want to pack the house, have a fire. Bring along your own box cars to stand on.

Florida's packers shed fire at N. W. 12th St. was the signal for a pack of rodents to town to the fire site. A half dozen police were required to direct traffic. The mob gave the firemen extra worries, too. Everybody goes to a fire.

So the next time you want to hold a meeting, don't send invitations, have a fire. Bring your own marshmallows.

Rep. Paul Rogers
Speaks On Matters

Congressman Paul Rogers today took the opening session of the 86th Congress, Second Session at the Capitol in Washington.

Representative Rogers returned to his Washington office last week to prepare for the upcoming Congressional session after spending three months in Florida visiting in each of the 11 counties making up the 6th Congressional District. About that session the Congressman said:

"The problem of holding down Federal spending" Rogers said, "will be one of prime importance, especially in light of the present inflationary trend in this country." The South Florida Congressman added that the Delta is one of the most important problems facing the Congress this year.

Pointing out that the present budget calls for over 8 billion dollars for interest payment on the debt, but has no provision for reducing the debt itself, Rogers said:

"The problem of the National Debt is understanding the financial stability of the country, and some action or plan must be found to begin paying off this debt, which is now over 290 billion dollars."

Representative Rogers also indicated that the missile problem will require careful study this year, so that better coordination of missile development and manpower cuts can be effected to prevent weaknesses in our defense system.

Congressman Rogers is a member of the House International Relations Committee and the subcommittee on Health and Safety, Transportation and Commerce Committee." Rogers reported, "will look further into the problems of highway and air safety, air pollution, health problems and research. He is expected to continue his studies in the so-called 'Fair Trade' proposals."

Congressman Rogers is again preparing his annual questionnaire, in which he asks the people of the 6th District to express their own views on some of the issues that are coming before the Congress. Last year Rogers received over 33,000 replies to his poll.

Since the closing of his District Office, Congressman Rogers has requested that all mail be sent to him at the Washington office, Room 111, House Office Building.

March Of Dimes
Drive Started

The New March of Dimes campaign in Palm Beach County has begun as it was announced this week by Kenneth Foster, county campaign chairman.

Foster also announced the opening of a county March of Dimes headquarters at 301 First Street in West Palm Beach, which will be under the supervision of Mrs. James Wade, Lake Worth.

Key campaign leaders already named to the campaign include Mrs. Maxine Shaver, Mothers March; John Causten, teen age activity chairman; John Burns, West Palm Beach chamber and Bernard Grail, birth control chairman.

The county chairman said the 1960 campaign seeks to raise funds for a fight against birth defects, polio and polo.

Three major crippled infants one in every four U. S. families. The drive will continue through January, reaching a climax January 15, with the traditional Mothers' March.

"The National Foundation," Foster said, "has become the leader in the fight against crippling diseases." The foundation hopes to provide patients aid, 19 strikers by arthritis and cerebral birth defects. Aid to polio victims will continue.

Also planned, Foster said, is a program of medical research to solve the problems of arthritics and deformities, and a vigorous program of education for the health professions, health scholarships for high school graduates and college students playing an important role.

Foster, who is a Palm Beach County Commissioner, has long been involved with the chapter of the polio foundation and has served as a director of the chapter for several years. He has previously served as council chairman of the March of Dimes and also played an active part in a recent polio television show to raise funds to meet financial emergencies faced by the county chapter in care of polio patients still under treatment in this area.

Uncle Dan From Doolie Says:

Dear Master Editor:

The way things is working out it looks like we git more and more bad seasons in this country ever year. We got the terrible season, the tornado season, the polio season and the have fewer season, just to name a few.

And one of our very bad seasons is the tax season. We might call the Item 4. Miser Item 3" season. Them brass hats in Washington figgers farmers are little dumb, so they make the tax season a month after normal folks has to work in their

I always start on mine the first week in January so to allow plenty of time for work and meditation. I been working on this new jigsaw puzzle for three straight days and I git a new answer every time I figure it up with my Sunday suit and that nine dollars I got in the bank, send it to 'em and tell them to work it out. I'd like to advise that if there's anything left over, I'd like to have my Sunday pants back.

Two Boys Admit Store Robbery

South Bay Police apprehended two teenagers Friday after they broke into Willits' General Store at South Bay and made off with just under $100 worth of merchandise and money, according to Police Chief Marvin Davis.

Davis said the two youths, 13 and 14 years old, after being taken into custody, stated about 1,500 rounds of ammunition, a hatchet, and $246.00 in money when they broke out the front window and entered the store about 3 a.m. Friday morning.

They had in the nearby grass until they successfully fled to a spot about two miles south of the city where they hid their stolen merchandise and returned to Pella's Restaurant to eat about noon Friday.

Chief Davis said investigation after the report of the crime turned up a bottom box of cameras and shell cases and boxes where they had been in the grass. The button was pressed to the bell and found.

Officer Buddy Harrell confronted the boys after learning that the pair had asked certain questions around town the night before the incident. He presented the boy to one of the youths who admitted it was one from his shirt.

The two youths stated that they were at the Auto Park to plan a robbery, but turned to Big Cypress swamp and live off the land. They were turned over to Glades Juvenile Officer Gene Dunn, who had other property taken. The stolen property was recovered.

Florida Power & Light Pay Station Authorized

For the convenience of customers an authorized Florida Power & Light Company Pay Station has been established in the new W. T. Grant Center Store at 201 W. Avenue A, Belle Glade according to Curtis Chase of the Florida Power & Light Company. Mr. W. D. Baze, manager of W. T. Grant and Company.

Customers may pay their bills by mail or bring the bill and payment to the store during regular store hours. Mr. Baze more says ample free parking space is available in the rear of the store for customers.

The new pay station is in addition to the one already established at Willits' General Store in South Bay.

Fire Will Handle Dog Food Supplies

Supplying dog food to a large area of south Florida is the purpose of a Glades-based firm which is now in the process of incorporating the stock, according to Dr. R. Mitchell, Jr., a co-owner of the business.

With Michael, he has connected with the retail and wholesale butcher business at Miami and St. Louis, Mo., and together they will operate from the old plant house on SR 70, just across the gate at Glades State Prison Farm.

Mitchell, who is a graduate veterinarian, said the firm will purchase unmarketable carcasses and cattle and slaughter them to supply food for racing kennels, zoos, circuses other veterinarians and similar outlets.

Ashley's survivors will be added as the business demands, and a regular delivery vehicle will be on the road. The food will be sold by the sixpound bags to the pet food dealers and will be examined for diseases which would prohibit their use as dog food. Special loading equipment will be used to keep the animals will be on hand.

He told the audience that a good commissioner.

Jones said the Glades were proud to have one of their remainers as chairman of the commission for what he termed "the board's ability to keep their feet on the ground."

Following his election as chairman, Mr. Rardin, as chairman, he has the time to review the activities of the board and to take the opportunity to visit residents that a committee does more than a

Impressive Ceremony

Paul Rardin Now PBC Board Chairman

In one of the most colorful and well attended ceremonies ever to mark a change in County government, Paul Rardin, Canal Point was named chairman of the board Monday, succeeding Commissioner Lake.

Before a packed commission audience—most of them friends and neighbors of the Glades commissioners—Rardin was given a unanimous vote of his colleagues to serve as the chairman for the coming year.

The Canal Point commission, who has served as vice chairman of the board during the past year, was nominated for the post by Commissioner Roy Michael.

Commissioner Michael said that Michael, Rardin, during his 16 years as a member of the commission, "has demonstrated his ability as an administrator and has proved himself an active and energetic commissioner."

Luther Jones, Belle Glade

man, speaking for the Glades area, said the area west of the Glades is the only area giving the county the top share of its income through its farming activities.

He added that only half the area was now developed and the Glades will continue to grow and prosper.

He said the county commission is close to the people and no group has more weight in keeping their feet on the ground."

Following his election as chairman, Mr. Rardin, as chairman, he has the time to review the activities of the board and to take the opportunity to visit residents that a committee does more than a small a load a shell or catch a wooden bridge."

Much of the credit for any success we have had, Mr. Rardin, said, is due to the people who hold key positions in the county organization.

Handicaps Can't Stand In His Way

Randy Williams Has A Future Ahead

"I believe that it's better to try to advance one's self to his utmost capacity instead of being content with what he has," he said.

There were the words of 23-year-old Randy Williams, of Glades Area who is looking forward to serving a purpose for himself.

Williams is native of Michigan, a graduate of Michigan State University, and has worked in the Bahamas, Arizona and Mexico as a machinist and other vocational training.

He attended the Daytona Beach Junior College.

After attending school most of his life at the Harry-Anna Crippen Children's Home at Umatilla, Fla., Randy came to Belle Glade to serve a purpose for himself.

Williams has lived with cerebral palsy all his life and has just completed a 14-month study in advanced vocational training at a vocational school.

He is a machinist and

He said the south Florida area alone has a potential market of 12,000 pounds of food per week.
